When mathematics say proof, they mean a way of proving ideas to counts for all values in the set to have e.g. in N with the theorem being true for every number in this set