Proof means that you are making sure a theorem works and is right by checking it with a proof