

To prove a concept is to show it is true for given parameters. The concept of a 'proof' is used to explain why something is true