

To prove a theorem is to show that the ideas in it work for any arbitrary choice of the values involved (within constraints like $x \in \mathbb{R}$, \mathbb{R}^n etc)